

We are a world-leading provider of open platform IP video management software (VMS) and network video recorders. We are dedicated to delivering a high-quality business video platform, in which our community of hardware, software, and partners can integrate their video solutions for security purposes and beyond. Our solutions are sold through a distribution and partner channel and are available in most countries around the world.

Our available resources are the basis of our business. They define the focus areas of our investments in people, organization, technology, and capacity. We have a Scandinavian leadership model and believe that cooperation with our employees is key to reaching our targets. We invest in people, culture, partner relations, technology, and innovation to succeed with our strategy.
