Web Developer .NET

The market for online vacation rental services is evolving fast right now. If you are a skilled Web Developer with focus on Microsoft technologies, we have a very interesting opportunity for you. We will build a top-modern platform for management of vacation rentals from scratch. The technologies to be used is planned to be ASP.NET MVC, C#, JavaScript, jQuery and MS SQL in combination with the Bootstrap framework for responsive design. Our objective is to put together the best team for this work, so we are open to consider your application whether you are focused on front-end or back-end development or prefer the combination. Previous experience in developing travel booking platforms or similar is not a requirement but is considered as an advantage.

Requirements:

- 2+ years of relevant working experience
- Solid experience in ASP.NET MVC, C#, JavaScript, jQuery and MS SQL
- University level studies
- Good English skills verbally and in writing

Considered as an advantage:

- Experience in the Bootstrap framework and/or .NET WCF
- Experience from developing, designing or using travel booking platforms or similar

We believe that you are good team player that will be devoted to creating the best platform for management of travel bookings in the industry.

For the right candidate, we are pleased to offer a competitive compensation and benefits package.

If you find our proposal interesting and you meet the above requirements for the position, please send your CV and cover letter in English.

All applications will be treated strictly confidential.

About Comstream:

Comstream is a privately held company group with about 40 employees and offices in Sweden, Finland and Bulgaria. Over the last years we have experienced a strong growth and we are now expanding our business further. We are focusing on the latest technologies and our skilled staff is developing leading products in a number of different areas including web development, on-line games, mobile applications, embedded systems and infrastructure solutions.

If you want to become member of an international organization with a Scandinavian-influenced business culture, Comstream is the place for you. For us it is important that you can grow in your professional role and with us you are in the right environment for this. We work in small teams where everyone plays important roles and our values are based upon involvement and freedom.Please visit our corporate website www.comstream.se for further information about us.